Federal law requires a third-party payer, such as an insurance company, to withhold income taxes from sick pay payments if the employee so requests. Sick pay includes Short Term (Weekly Loss of Time) and Long Term Disability benefits provided under an employer-sponsored group insurance plan as well as statutory disability benefits. An employee who elects to have federal income taxes withheld from disability benefit payments must provide the information requested in Question No. 26 in the Employee Section. We will withhold the requested amount until the employee notifies us in writing to modify or terminate the request. If coverage is provided to employees under the terms of a collective bargaining agreement, an employee need not request withholding provided that the agreement specifies that IRC section 3402(0)(5), the sick pay withholding provision, will apply to sick pay paid pursuant to the agreement and provided also that the agreement states the manner in which the amount withheld is to be determined. Notify Guardian how much income tax to withhold and provide the Social Security Number of the employee from whom we are to withhold taxes. The law also requires us to give you a written report by January 15 of the year succeeding that in which disability payments were made. Our report will give the name of each employee who received disability payments, the total amount of benefits paid, and the total amount of income tax withheld from each employee's payments. If taxes were withheld from an employee's disability payments, we must also give you the employee's social security number. By January 31, you must provide a W-2 statement to each employee who has received disability payments. The W-2 must contain all the information you received from us and must show which portion, if any, of the employee's disability payments is excludable from gross pay and which is not. Contact your tax consultant if you have any questions about sick pay withholding.
